OGALLALA, Neb. (Nov. 7, 2017) – Ogallala Community Hospital’s Diagnostic Senior Manager Ward Kroeger has been recognized with The Nebraska Hospital Association (NHA) “The Caring Kind” award. Every year the organization recognizes hospital employees for their excellence in service.

“
He continues to show his love for patient care through his thoughtful and caring leadership of his team.

For 38 years, “The Caring Kind” award has been given to Nebraska’s most caring and compassionate hospital employees. The award honors outstanding health care employees who have demonstrated compassion for patients, cooperation with co-workers and dedication to excellence in their job responsibilities.

“Ward Kroeger is very deserving of this award. He has led his departments through a lot of change and has added new capabilities to serve the communities that we are proud to call home,” said Drew Dostal, CEO of Ogallala Community Hospital. “He continues to show his love for patient care through his thoughtful and caring leadership of his team.”

Hospitals across the state each select one award recipient from within their respective institutions to be recognized during the NHA Annual Convention.

More than 2,400 caring, skilled and dedicated health care professionals have received this award since its inception in 1979. This year, 66 employees were honored before nearly 500 people in attendance at The Caring Kind Awards Luncheon held at Embassy Suites Omaha-La Vista Hotel & Conference Center in La Vista.

“It is such an honor for me to meet ‘The Caring Kind’ award recipients each year. They demonstrate the kindness, caring, dedication and commitment to their hospitals which is why they were awarded this recognition,” NHA President Laura J. Redoutey, FACHE, said.
